

I strongly recommend that cell phones NOT be allowed to be used on airline flights lasting over 2 hours, unless there is a separate sound proof area where callers can be isolated from the rest of the people in the cabin and to which callers must be required to be located in. I think if cell phone use is permitted on airline flights the auditory pollution would be atrocious.